

BLOOD CLOT SYMPTOMS CHECKER

A blood clot that forms in the veins of a person's legs or arms, called a deep vein thrombosis (DVT), can grow or break off and travel to a person's lungs. A blood clot in a person's lung, called a pulmonary embolism (PE), is life-threatening.

DVT IN LEG OR ARM

PE IN LUNG

SYMPTOMS

Pain

Swelling

Red, discolored

Warm to the touch

Seek medical attention as soon as possible.

SYMPTOMS

Chest pain

Difficulty breathing

Coughing, coughing up blood

Fast heart rate

Seek immediate medical attention, call 911.

Click the stethoscope image to the left, or visit <https://bit.ly/risk-checklist>, to view and download a blood clot risks checklist.